

TELEMATICS CONTROL UNIT

FLASK

Flask is a micro web framework written in Python which does not require particular tools or libraries. Here it is used as a local and a web server which receives all the data and processes it to be shown on the LCD and Cloud.

